Problem Statement

- Many people want to donate books, clothes, and household items
- Lack of a centralized, trusted platform for donations
- NGOs struggle with irregular supply and poor visibility
- Donors are unsure where their donations go

Proposed Solution

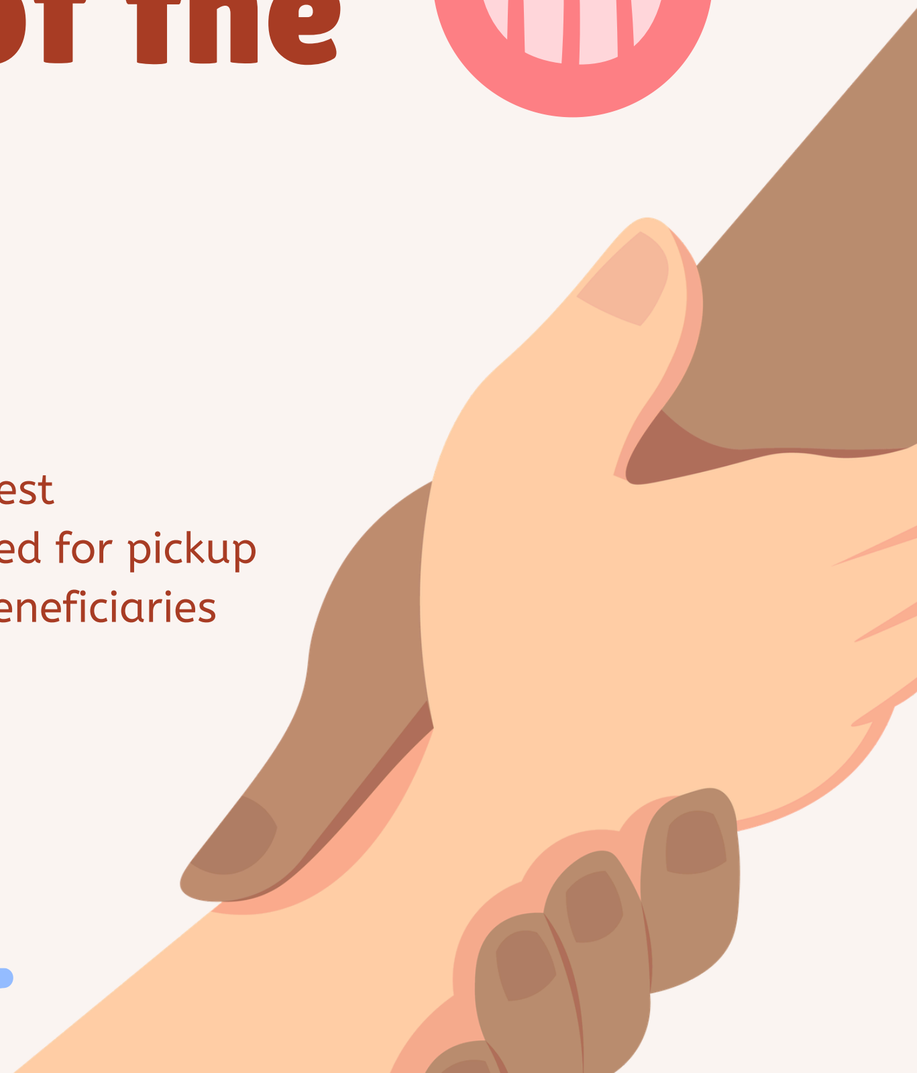
A web-based platform for collecting donations

Users enter their personal details, Type of donation (books, clothes, household items)
Donations are distributed to NGOs or sent directly to people in need

Outcome: A transparent, organized, and impactful donation system.

Working of the System

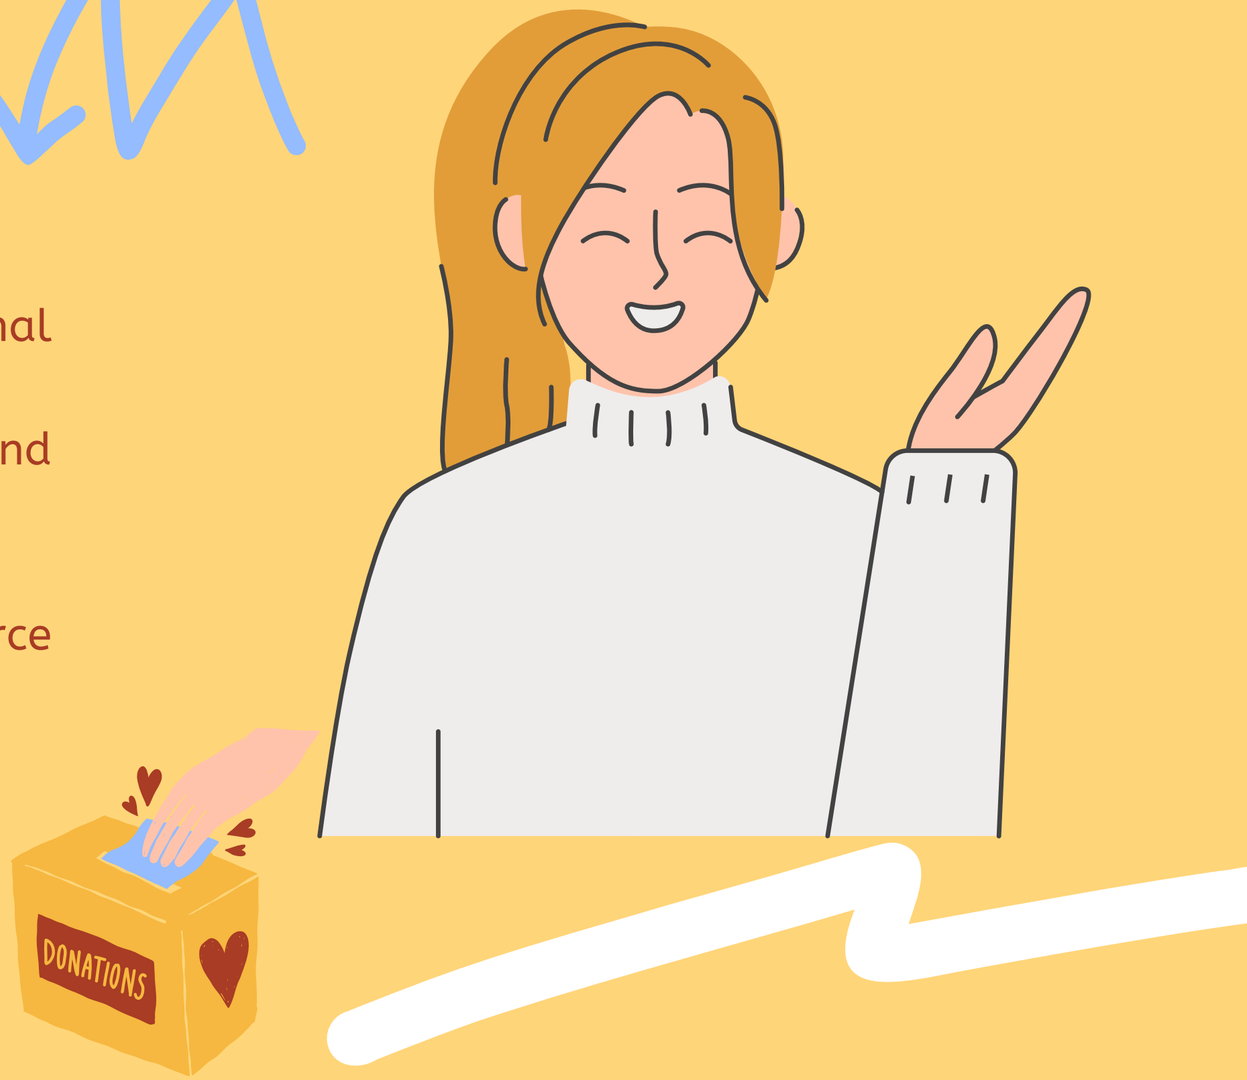
- Donor registers on the website
- Enters donation details
- NGO / Admin reviews the request
- Items are collected or scheduled for pickup
- Donations are distributed to beneficiaries

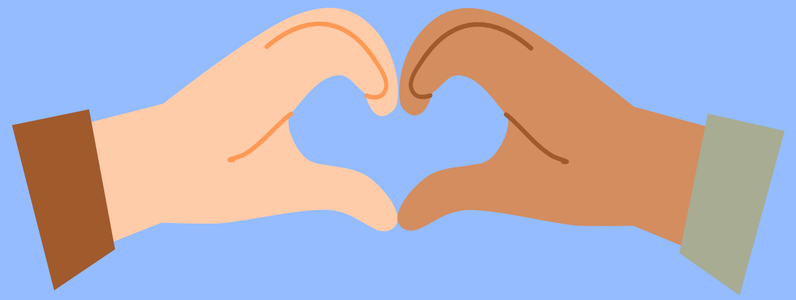


Why is this an Innovation?

- Digital transformation of traditional donation methods
- Direct connection between donors and NGOs
- Real-time tracking and transparency
- Reduces waste and improves resource utilization

- Social Innovation
- Process Innovation
- Technological Innovation





Value Created

1. For Donors:
   Easy donation process
   Transparency and trust
2. For NGOs:
   Better resource planning
   Increased reach
3. For Society:
   Reduced inequality
   Better access to basic needs

Conclusion

DonateEase demonstrates how innovation management and technology can solve real-world social problems by creating a sustainable, transparent, and impactful donation ecosystem
